New York City Day By Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

HIGH SPOTS OF THE FOLLIES.

NEW YORK, July 9.—For the first time in its history the Follies, the theatrical event of the New York summer season, has changed its location. Due to the success of "Sally," Mr. Ziegfeld is revealing his gorgeous girls at the Globe on Broadway this year.

As an opener, the Statue of Liberty at night is revealed with Raymond Hitchcock in a skiff rowing out beyond the three-mile limit to wet his parched whistle. He stops to make a speech to Miss Liberty, calling her "Lib, old girl."

Fannie Brice, the comedienne, dominates the comedy side of the production. Those who have complained that the Follies has a "blind spot" for comedy may revise their opinion this year. Fannie Brice, after Miss Veira Buck, are spending the month of July at Atlantic City.

John A. Garrett returned early in the week from Cape May, N. J., where he attended the annual meeting of the State Bar Association.

singing a Scotch Highlander song, with Yiddish interpolations, is quite the funniest thing New York has seen in many a year.

W. O. Fields, who juggles so grotesquely, is playing straight comedy this season. In a subway scene with Hitchcock, Fannie Brice, and Ray Dooley, he is most amusing. Fields, so Broadway hears, is tired of the gruelling grind of expert juggling. To keep fit he is forced to practice hours daily.

The only importations are Mitty and Tillie, the Paris dancers, who are just as much the rage here as they were at the Folies Bergers in Paris for two years. Mitty wears nothing to speak of, but her consummate grace prevents any tinge of vulgarity. And in Paris she wore less than she does here.

All in all the Follies has lived up to the reputation it has set, and has eclipsed its myriad of imitators. A knock-about comedy act comes to the Follies this year from Severn Avenue. It is the most hair raising act Broadway has ever seen, and how it escaped the theatrical scouts for so long is a mystery. The team had been playing vaudeville small time in almost obscurity. The summer theatrical season, aside from the Follies, offers very few new productions worth while. The theatrical producers are wary of the times. They are waiting on their oars, as to speak. In the fall they hope for better days and are concentrating on productions for that season. London producers report that business was never so bad on the other side.

An uptown drug store hangs the following sign over the cashier's booth: "We'll do as much as any other in most respects; we'll honor your father and mother, but not your checks." And the rivalry between two Harlem laundries is growing acute. One put out that sign: "We wash everything but the dog," and the rival followed with: "We'll wash the dog."

Passing the Belmont Sunday morning after the big fight where a makeshift band was serenading the champion, I could not help but be impressed by the lack of enthusiasm among the crowds. No one was cheering. Like myself, I believe the crowd was thinking of the stout-hearted French fighter alone and forgetting his Manhattan camp. Carpenter helping Dempsey through the ropes, grasping his hand firmly in the ring and looking him in the eye steadily while the champion hung his head, and then standing valiantly to receive the blows that would prevent the stigma of being called a quitter—those were the things that has endeared Carpenter to New York crowds. Near where I sat at the fight was a man who had wagered $1,000 on Dempsey to win, but at the beginning of the second round he was cheering for Carpenter. I heard him yell as the fighters clinched: "Knock his block off, Georges."

JOHN D. 82; SAYS HE'S FEELING FINE

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 9.—John D. Rockefeller, 82 years old yesterday, gives evidence that he has discovered the secret of remaining young despite his advancing years. He was as sprightly as a man half his years, his eyes are clear, and he told visitors that he was free of aches and pains, was able to enjoy his food and slept soundly.

One of the things he most enjoys is hand music, and Goldman's Concert Band was brought to Pocantico Hills for the occasion. The oil king shook hands with each member of the organization and then sat in the shade of a great grape arbor for two hours, while the band played its own selections and a number of requests by Mr. Rockefeller, such as "Swanee River," "Old Black Joe," and melodies of that nature popular forty years ago and still popular.

Mr. Rockefeller, after he had finished carving his huge birthday cake, helped in the serving. He also played a round of golf under an umbrella carried by a servant.

Deputy Sheriff Killed By Bootleggers; 2 Shot

UTICA, N. Y., July 9.—Surrounded by deputy sheriffs as they were unloading a barrel of liquor into a cafe here today, bootleggers put up a running gun fight and killed Deputy Sheriff Charles J. Kammerleier, while two of their number are in St. Luke's Hospital with serious wounds.

Isador Cominsky and Nathan Denmark were shot down by the deputy sheriffs after Kammerleier had been shot through the heart as he stepped onto the running board of the car containing the liquor. Relatives of the wounded men who visited them were questioned by detectives, and a flat fight at the hospital ensued, followed by the arrest of several of the relatives.

Lieut. Roger Sherman Hoar, Coast Artillery, U. S. A., received the degree of A. M. from Harvard on June 23. He already has the degrees of A. B. and LL. B. from that institution.

Mr. and Mrs. John Van Brunt, of Kansas City, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elisabeth Taylor, to Lieut. Frederick Weed Drury, Seventeenth U. S. Cavalry.

A son was born to the wife of Major Frederic H. Bockoven, Dental Corps, U. S. A., at Manila, P. I., April 30.

Mrs. M. E. Conable, wife of Capt. M. E. Conable, Coast Artillery, U. S. A., of Fort Thomas, Ky., left about July 1 to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Littlefield, of Buffalo, N. Y. She will also visit friends and relatives at Fort Niagara, N. Y., and Nantucket, Mass.

Mrs. William Scarborough Richardson announces the marriage of her daughter, Pauline, Emily, to Capt. John Albion Chase, Forty-first Infantry, U. S. A., on June 19, at Baltimore, Md. They will be at home after July 1 at 2101 North Calvert street, Baltimore.

Mrs. John Lloyd Stearns has announced the marriage of her daughter, Rosalie Marshall Stearns, sister of Major Cuthbert P. Stearns, U. S. Cavalry, to Major John Burges Johnson, Second U. S. Cavalry, on June 2, at Denver, Colo. Major and Mrs. Johnson will be at home after July 1 at Fort Riley, Kans.

A son, Archer Lynn Lerch, Jr., was born to Capt. A. L. Lerch, Sixty-third U. S. Infantry, and Mrs. Lerch at Fort Ontario, N. Y., on June 21.

Cadet Carter Catlett, of West Point Military Academy, is visiting his home in Gloucester, Va.

Horoscope For Today

What the Stars Indicate

SUNDAY, JULY 10, 1921.

Venus dominates this day with evil power, according to astrology. Neptune is slightly adverse.

During this away men and women may be easily led by romance and woman may be persistent, but Neptune is in an aspect that is believed to cloud the common sense view of life.

Women should be particularly lucky today, which is held to favor all their essentially feminine ambitions.

It is a lucky day for the wearing of new clothing or for the making of plans that concern the purchase of jewelry or ornaments.

There will be many flirtations before the next lunation and hasty engagements will be made, to be repented later.

Drownings will be numerous at this time, the seers prophesy and they admonish all who are susceptible to the lure of the sea.

This is not a lucky day for journeys by water or for choosing routes that lead across the ocean.

Accidents to warships are again foretold and one of these may be exceedingly serious.

This is not a propitious time for persons who seek to enforce prohibition laws. They may have many delays in carrying out their plans and may find themselves frequently thwarted.

Women are under favorable rule of the stars that seems to promise progress through organization.

South Africa again comes under a sinister planetary government that appear to presage grave troubles.

Persons whose birthdate it is should beware of accidents or falls. They should avoid quarrels and should make the best of every day experiences. The subjects of Cancer are usually extremely fortunate through their own exertions.

Children born on this day are likely to be exact, thorough and industrious. They are generally affectionate and kindly in nature.

Cuba Plans Repatriation Of Jamaican Laborers

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 9.—Repatriation of British West Indian laborers, many thousands of whom are stranded in Cuba, owing to the slump in sugar production, is being considered by the Cuban government.

Laborers on the sugar plantations have not been paid any wages for months. The Jamaica government has agreed to advance the planters $2,000,000 to help carry on the sugar industry. A bill has been introduced in the Jamaica legislature which will prevent the shipment of immature bananas or oranges to America.

Arts Club Very Active

Series of Midsummer Night's Screams On Program.

Several open-air entertainments and dinners for July have been arranged by the chairman of the entertainment committee of the Washington Arts Club, Prof. Mitchell Carroll. Music and short talks will be given every Sunday night in the garden. The summer amusement committee, of which Mrs. William James Monroe is chairman, will give a series of "Midsummer Night's Screams" on Tuesdays.

Mrs. William James Monroe was hostess at the club dinner Thursday, when an illustrated lecture was given by Brig. Gen. Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service, who spoke on "Chemical Warfare and Its Relation to Arts and Industry." The other guests included Col. and Mrs. Bingham, Capt. and Mrs. Baker, Capt. Gempie, Dr. Irene Diner and Dr. W. E. Sanford. Others dining there that evening were Mr. and Mrs. Bush Brown and Dr. and Mrs. Bauer, who entertained guests.

Dinner was served in the garden and the tables were adorned with water lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Bush Brown will be in charge at the club dinner July 14.

The first of the series of "Midsummer Night's Screams" was given last Tuesday, when Dennis Connell was chairman of the skits and Paul Heyden chairman of music. They will serve in those capacities during the season. Among those at the skit last week were Comdr. and Mrs. Dayton, Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. Thomas Bright and Miss Mary Stitt, and Miss Emma Stitt, who sang duets in which the whole assembly joined in the choruses. Dr. Irene Diner is chairman for this Tuesday evening, when the second of the series will be given. There will be clowns and dancing and music and lots of fun.
